OUR HISTORY

Our firm began with a single office in Tallahassee in 1979, with the goal of protecting business clients in civil claims and administrative actions. In the years thereafter, and under the leadership of Jim McConnaughhay, the firm experienced significant growth in the representation of employers and insurance carriers defending workers' compensation claims across multiple industries. As the size of the firm expanded, so too did the scope of our practice areas. With offices located throughout the entire State of Florida and in South Georgia, our firm has developed into a regional law firm that provides comprehensive guidance in a wide array of legal areas to educate our clients and defend them against litigated claims.
